This book is a record of the descendants from the Janzen families who lived in the village of Schoenwiese, Russia.

The wealth of information in this book came about quite unexpectedly through the efforts of Miss K. Peters, who attempted without success to include and enlarge my mother's "Janzen" ancestral book which goes back further by one generation or more.

The Mennonite church I and my family belong to was originally named Schoenwieser Kirche after the same village in Russia that our Aeltester J. Klassen came from. Years later it was changed to the First Mennonite Church of Winnipeg.

Since many people have shown interest and contributed information, we felt it was necessary to make this book available.

Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, a famous german classic, once wrote:

"Ein Mensch, der seinen Grossvater nicht kennt
sinkt zum Poebel herab und erlischt.
Ein Volk, das von seiner Geschichte sich trennt,
und wenn ihm Schmach auf der Stirne brennt,
wird von Gott von der Tafel gewischt."

Here is a translation by I.A. Dyck:

"The man who lives in ignorance of his ancestry
sinks to the level of the rabble in darkness.
A people, who spurn their own history,
with shame engraved on their foreheads - will be erased by God!"

E.J. Klassen

Janzen

(Jantzen, Janssen, Jansson, Jansen, Johnson, Jansz, Janz, Jantz, Jans), one of the most widespread Mennonite family names of Dutch-Prussian background, derived from Jan (Johann, John) a given name, to which is added "zon" (zen, sen, etc.), the combination meaning "son of John." The name was very common among the Dutch Mennonites and found its way into the congregations bordering the Netherlands such as Crefeld, Gronau, and East Friesland; also in Schleswig-Holstein and Prussia, where it was represented in the congregations of Elbing, Koenigsberg, Tiegenhagen, Ladekopp, Rosenort, Fuersterwerder, Heubuden, Tiensdorf, Orloffelfelde, Schoensee, Jeziorka, Deutsch-Kasun, etc.

The name appears first on record in Danzig in 1568. From Prussia it was transplanted to Russia and later to North America, where it is found in most of the settlements started after 1874, and to South America.

A branch of this name was transplanted from the Lower Rhine to Pennsylvania, where it was changed into Johnson.

While tracing a certain Janzen family that had migrated to Russia in 1793 and settled in Schoenwiese, I tried to contact descendants of all Janzens from the same area, hoping to find connections with the above mentioned family.

As a result I ended up with a number of different clans. There might be a connection between some of them, but I did not find it. So I decided to put all these single branches into one volume, calling it the "Schoenwieser Janzen Book."

This book is made up of eight parts and includes the following records:

I	Heinrich Janzen - Maria	5
II	Heinrich Janzen - Helena Krahn	57
III	Wilhelm Janzen - Maria Fleming-Anna Wiebe	111
IV	Franz Janzen - Maria Peters	130
V	Peter Janzen - Anna Neufeld	149
VI	Kornelius Janzen - Helena Goerzen	170
VII	Franz Janzen -	177
VIII	{ Johann Janzen - Sara	182
	{ Franz Janzen - Justina Wiebe	182

Introduction

The Schoenwieser Janzen Book came about by searching for information for a certain Janzen clan, on which I worked for nine years. All the loose ends are combined in this volume. Mr. E.J. Klassen is kind enough to get it printed even though it does not represent his lineage.

These records are very incomplete. I have tried to keep each branch separate, but indicate connections between different clans. As I have received the information from different sources, spelling and dates do not always correspond. I hope you will bear with me and help me by sending in corrections and missing information.

A few pointers to get familiar with the book. Each generation is identified with a letter - 1st generation A, 2nd generation B, and so on. The number next to the letter - as B3 - identifies the third child in the second generation, F2 - the second child in the fifth generation.

Charts also make it easier to find the connections. The page number, on which more information about that person is found, is marked on them. An index of all the names is in the back of the back, as well as some addresses.

According to Siebs the name Janssen originated in East Friesland. In Russia it was found mostly in the Frisian villages of Rudnerweide, Grossweide and Pastwa, Molotschna.-Schroeder -B.H.Unruh,p. 70

Children Janzen: 3 sons, 3 daughters

Shortly before the German invasion in 1918 Mr. Janzen, 1 daughter and 2 sons-in-law (Janzen & Enns) were killed by Russians. Their oldest son was Johann. The two younger sons joined later the White Army. One of these killed himself by accident while cleaning the gun, the other also lost his life. One daughter was not married. Mrs. Enns (widow of one of the victims) remarried a widower --- Vogt, who died later of cholera. She died after childbirth.
