Rilling, Wiens and the choirs

"People need to be transported out of everyday, out of their mundane routines. At some point singers need an experience which is bigger than they are. I think an event like this does it," says organizer Bill Baerg of MB Bible College.

The event was the week-long Church Music Seminar organized by MBBC and Canadian Mennonite Bible College. The seminar, held every two years, has become a tradition, and every fourth year the organizers try to make it exceptional. This year the organizers asked Helmuth Rilling to direct the oratorio choir. One of the world's leading choral conductors, West Germany's Rilling is a true "church musician". Son of a Lutheran minister, Rilling studied theology, became a church organist and founded a church choir which he still conducts after 35 years.

"Rilling has a tremendous technique and communicates well with his hands. He's a scholar and knows how to look at the words and music and how they relate. He's a tremendous model for our conductors," says Baerg.

Rilling is an authority on J.S. Bach and has recorded all of Bach's sacred choral music. The goal of his interpretation is to make the meaning of Bach's music tangible to people today. The "Christian dimension" of Bach's work is integral to the music, says Rilling. "Bach's music is performed also and primarily because it has something to say above and beyond that which is simply musical."

Helmuth Rilling has received many honours for his work. His particular contribution to church music is symbolized in the honorary doctorate he received in 1985 from the University of Tübingen, not from the faculty of music but from the Faculty of Protestant Theology.
