In 1929 David Neudorf with other young men, had to work in the forest at Tomsk, Siberia, for 6 months, to extract oil out of the fir trees. In 1930 they were sent to Bisysk, Altaysk, to do the same work. 1931 he had to crush rocks for roadbuilding at Noros ten near the Polish border. They also had to work at the electric power dam.

1936 they built a house in Osterwick. 1943, before the German occupation, David was exiled for 10 years, just to find out that his wife Aganetha had died of tuberculosis in Berlin, Germany. When the German Army retreated, the villagers of Osterwick were taken to Germany.

MY FAMILY HISTORY

One of the early ancestors of the Koslowsky family was David Koslowsky. He was born on February 2, 1769 in Zeyer, West Prussia two miles from the city of Elbing. In 1804, he started a fishery business in Einlage, a town which remained the home for Koslowskys for several generations.

Peter J. Koslowsky, my great great grandfather was born on June 23, 1860 in Einlage. On December 2, 1884, He married Katharina Kraus who was born on February 28, 1863 in Alt Kronsweide, Russia. Katharina died at the age of 35 on February 3, 1899. Peter J. Koslowsky remarried Suzanna Ratzlaff who was born on January 31, 1872. She died three years after Peter died in 1945.

Peter P. Koslowsky, Peter J. Koslowsky's first child and my great-grandfather was born on September 24, 1885 in Alt Kronweide. He married Agatha Kasper on May 5, 1911 in Sergewka. He died suddenly from a heart attack while rototilling his garden on September 23, 1971 in Niverville, Manitoba. His daughter Helen found him. Agatha died on November 5, 1971 six weeks after her husband's death. It was also Helen's birthday.

Before they died, they had already raised seven children, two of whom died at birth. The third oldest, was my grandfather, Peter P. Koslowsky who was born on May 15, 1919 in Kokobka Russia. On September 15, 1946 he married Elizabeth Falk who was born on March 26, 1926 in Arkadak Russia. Together they lived happily on a farm near Niverville Manitoba from 1946 to 1964 when they moved to Winnipeg where they still live today. His family enjoys sports immensely.

My dad, Ronald David Koslowsky, was born on April 5, 1951 in Winnipeg, Manitoba. He grew up on his dad's farm near Niverville. On August 20, 1971, he married Waltraut (Wally) Regier born August 24, 1951. There are four children in our family born as follows:

Jennifer Lynn October 15, 1973
Jonathan Peter December 4, 1975
Carla Ronalee May 30, 1979
Conrad David May 20, 1982

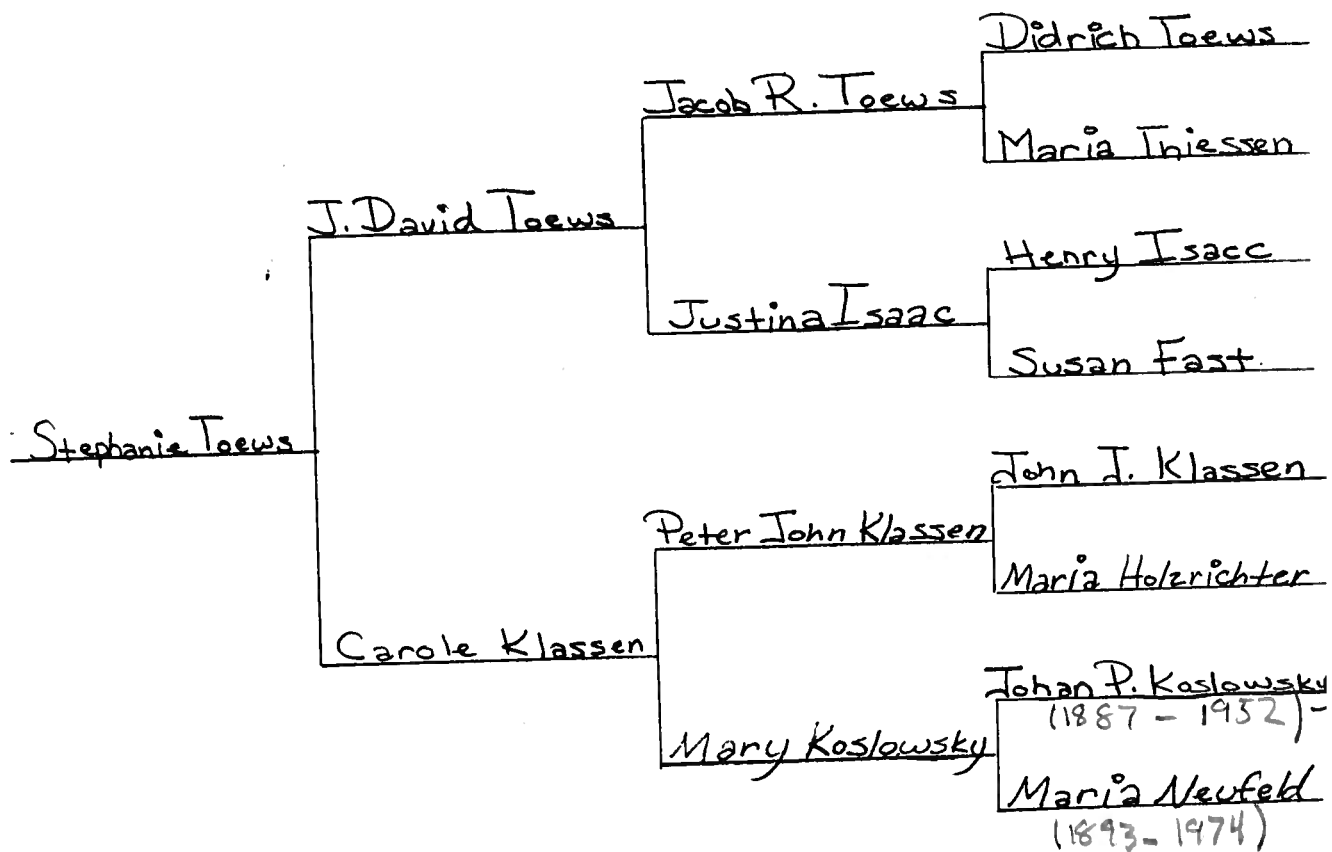

SPECIAL EVENTS IN MY FAMILY HISTORY

Helena Koslowsky, born January 3, 1867 in Einlage Russia, married a Johann Neudorf who later became the Mayor of the town of Osterwick, Russia. This was the same year that the First World War began creating special problems for him.

Peter P. Koslowsky Jr. is a nationally acclaimed tenor having sung at numerous music festivals and concerts across Canada including many solo performances with various orchestras.

My Family Tree

My grandpa (on my mom's side), Peter John Klassen was born on Nov. 2 1921 in Gussarowka, Russia during a famine caused by the revolution. His father, John Klassen was born in Wasseiljokwa, Russia, and his mother, Maria Holzrichter was born in Orechowo, Russia.

Before the revolution, when they had a little bit of money, his mother had hidden a 5-ruble-goldpiece in a jar of seeds. When the soldiers came to raid their house, they never found it. But, during the famine, his mother had forgotten where she had hidden it. One day, she tipped the jar over, and the seeds fell out, along with the 5-ruble-goldpiece. His father then went to buy flour with it, which saved them all (he had three sisters, & two brothers) from starving.

Peter John had one year of schooling in Wasseiljokwa.

In 1929, Peter John's father recieved a letter from his brother, Peter who was in Moscow. It said that there was a possibility of immigrating to Canada.

Peter John's mother and father then went to Moscow to investigate the possibilities.

At this time, taxation was doubled every six months to force people to move to collective farms. Peter John's father sold a sewing machine to get some money. It was an unproclaimed law that you couldn't sell any household items, so he had to go to jail for three days. When he got out, he was convinced that it was time to move. That night, the whole family went to Moscow and stayed with Peter John's father's brother Peter, and waited for visas.

The Russian government wanted to send everybody in Russia back to the place where they were born because they didn't want people to go to Canada, and then come back, because they would tell everybody how good it was, and everyone would want to leave.

Luckily they didn't find them at Peter's house, or the whole family would've been sent to Siberia.

Peter John's father said that they were going to move because, the night before, they had seen trucks picking up mennonites a few houses down, and taking them to Siberia.

That day, the family was walking down the street when they saw a street-car with people inside who were being sent to Siberia. Peter John's father heard someone call to him from inside. It was Uncle Peter, whom they had stayed with.

They finally got their visas, and went on the 3rd last train that left Russia. It went through Poland, Germany, and to a refugee camp which was called Hammerstein. After two months there + h...

left for Canada, landed at St. John, New Brunswick, and then proceeded to Mariton where they lived with Uncle George.

They moved to Winnipeg in 1937.

He was also a conscientious objector during the Second World War.

My grandma (on my mom's side), Mary Koslosky was born in Herbert, Saskatchewan on Feb. 11, 1923. Her parents, John Koslowsky, and Maria Neufeld left Russia in 1917 for Germany and stayed there for four years, thinking they could go back and retrieve all of their valuables which they had buried in their backyard, but they couldn't, so they immigrated to Canada, and lived in Herbert Saskatchewan.

My grandpa and grandma got married in 1945 in Winnipeg, and lived here till 1948, when they moved to B.C. (for economic reasons), and then moved back here in 1987 (to be close to their children and grandchildren.)

My mom was born in Winnipeg, on March 19, 1948. My father was born in Morden, Manitoba on Jan. 3 1948. They were married in Winnipeg in 1974.

I was born in Winnipeg on Aug. 14, 1975.

My grandpa is thankful to God that he could escape the oppressive government in Russia to live in a country of freedom.

The End.
